

Houghton Mifflin/Mariner Books

www.houghtonmifflinbooks.com

People I Wanted To Be

Stories

by Gina Ochsner

May 2005

ISBN 0-618-56372-5/$12 /192 pages

A Mariner Paperback Original

From an award-winning author featured in The New Yorker and The Best American Nonrequired Reading, gorgeous stories about human connection.

"Remarkable stories . . . a world that's magical, merciful, and infinite"
-Booklist, starred review

"Ochsner assembles a host of oddballs whose touchingly resilient hopes and small leaps of faith fly in the face of almost certain disappointment."
- Publishers Weekly, starred review

"Elegantly unsettling fiction...Eleven stories that possess restraint and edge: a powerful combination."
-Kirkus

GINA OCHSNER'S first collection, The Necessary Grace to Fall, won the Flannery O'Connor Award for Short Fiction and was published by the University of Georgia Press. It also won the Oregon Book Award for Short Fiction and the PNBA award for short stories and was an Austin Chronicle Top Ten Pick. Ochsner lives in western Oregon with her husband and four children.